By: Jose Antonio F. Toledo, IV

Micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) play a major role in closing socio-economic divide and income inequality. According to the SME Finance Forum, they play a crucial role for growth and job creation, as MSMEs account for nearly 86% of employment opportunities in developing countries.

The program also aims at improving the quality and productivity of MSMEs by addressing the gaps and bottlenecks in the value chain of priority industry clusters through the provision of processing equipment for the common use of MSMEs within the priority industry clusters in every region.

At present, a total of 310 SSF projects have been established in Central Luzon since its commencement in 2013. A total of Php185,599,629.54 was disbursed and utilized in establishing these facilities across the region. With the use of modern machinery and equipment granted under the SSF Program, the MSMEs have improved their production capacities, enhanced the quality of their products and increased their market shares. As a result, 133,910 MSMEs were assisted/benefitted to date since the program's inception.

Thus, on January 18, 2023, at the Orchid Gardens, City of San Fernando, Pampanga the annual regional summit was held to gather all SSF stakeholders in one venue to celebrate the successful implementation of the SSF Program in Region 3 for the past year. The yearly event provides an avenue for SSF cooperators to share their success stories and best practices to serve as inspiration to other cooperators.

The recognition of Best SSF Cooperators per province also provided the highlights during the Summit. Corollary to this, a learning session on "Sustainable Management" was conducted by Ms. Rita I. Pilarca of RGIP EmpowerBiz to enhance and hone the skills, capabilities and productivity of our SSF cooperators.

As a side event, a product showcase displaying the different products of SSF cooperators was held simultaneously.

"The success of our SSF program is in its simplicity of concept. We help and assist our cooperators so that in turn, they may help a greater majority of our MSMEs and other beneficiaries. To borrow from Mr. George Schultz, an economist, statesman and former United States Secretary of State, 'Success is best when it is shared'," DTI-3 Regional Director Leonila T. Baluyut said in a message delivered by Atty. Garcia.

TARLAC JOINS 2023 AMBIENTE INTERNATIONAL TRADE FAIR IN GERMANY

By: Ma. Fatima A. David

A total of 10 Micro, Small, & Medium Entrepreneurs (MSMEs) from Tarlac showcased their handcrafted products at the Ambiente Trade Show in Frankfurt, Germany, from February 3-7, 2023, with the theme "Moving the Future".

Ambiente, one of the world's leading international trade shows for the consumer goods sector, made an astounding comeback in 2023 after being canceled for two years due to the Covid-19 pandemic. The staggering array of goods in the event was divided into four categories: dining, living, giving, and the newly added working section. More than 4,500 exhibitors from around the world came together to show off their latest kitchen and household goods, gifts, home decor, and furniture that took sustainability, design, and lifestyles into account.

The Provincial Government of Tarlac (PGT), the Department of Trade & Industry - 3 (DTI-3) through DTI Tarlac Provincial Office, and the Center for International Trade and Mission (CITEM) collaborated to enable 10 MSMEs from the province of Tarlac to partake in the Ambiente 2023 Trade Show. This time, there were more Tarlac MSMEs present as compared to Ambiente 2020, where a total of eight Tarlac MSMEs joined.

Over the course of the five-day event, the participating exhibitors interacted with 152 buyers and booked a total of $28,954 in sales, while sales under negotiation totaled $488,193.

"Tarlac's participation in the Ambiente Trade Exhibition demonstrates the readiness and competitiveness of its products. With adequate planning, strategies, and actions, MSMEs have the potential to adapt to the highly competitive markets of Europe and the rest of the world." DTI Assistant Secretary (DTI ASec) Leonila T. Baluyut, former DTI-3 Regional Director, said.

The MSMEs that took part were Red Slab Pottery, Betis Crafts Inc., PumiceUnlimited Ventures, Northshine Lightings and Decors Manufacturing, Oricon Corporation, Louriza Furniture Center, JCS Beatus Trading, Inc., Car-Ofel Woodworks and General Merchandise, Pascasio Pottery & General Merchandise, and Gracia's Amor Rattan Products Manufacturing. The latter five joined the trade show for the first time. Bath accessories, house decor, furniture, pottery, and lanterns are among the products exhibited by the participants. The PGT sponsored the MSMEs' booth rental, product shipping fees, and travel and lodging costs.

DTI Tarlac, CITEM, and the PGT, through the leadership of Governor Susan A. Yap, have been consistently working together in providing assistance to the MSMEs in Tarlac to expand their market by enhancing their skills, developing their products, and taking part in international trade fairs. The exposure of Tarlac products to the international market started in 2017 at the International Furniture Fair in Tokyo, Japan.

In addition, the team explored the potential market in China by taking part in the 2018 and 2019 China-ASEAN Expos in Nanning, China. Tarlac also took part in the Ambiente Trade Show in 2020 and was named the first CITEM artisan community partner.

"Ambiente's return in 2023 is definitely a success. Though five out of the 10 exhibitors were first-timers, with the help of seasoned exhibitors, they were still able to effectively market their products. The friendship, teamwork, and positive attitudes of the MSMEs, along with the oversight and coaching provided by the DTI and the PGT-Provincial Cooperative and Enterprise Development Office (PGT-PCEDO), contributed to the overall success of the MSMEs' participation in the trade show." DTI - Tarlac Officer-In-Charge Provincial Director (OIC-PD) Zaida F. Garibay said.

Going forward, the collaborative team will continue to strengthen the 10 participants and develop more MSMEs by organizing higher levels of training programs for existing exporters and basic export training and mentoring sessions for potential exporters. With the effective convergence of government organizations and private MSMEs, Tarlac will eventually be able to establish itself in the global market.

The Micro Small and Medium Enterprise Development Council, (MSMEDC), and the Bamboo Industry Development Council (BIDC) met in Nueva Ecija to discuss upcoming projects and programs that they could work on together for the benefit of the industry. The meeting also aims to expand the cooperation between private businesses and government agencies for the growth of numerous industries in the province, including weaving.

DTI Provincial Director Richard Simangan claims that the aforementioned industry is poised for many more developments, one of which is the desire to raise public awareness for its local production.

DTI continuously work with cooperatives especially those that could assist in the development of the bamboo and weaving industry in terms production, training, and market research. Some of the successful partnerships with DTI are the group of women in General Tinio, the Papaya Kababaihan Sinag Tala or PAKASITA who are providing skills to those who are just starting out in business. There is also Bambuhay from Carranglan which actively supports the propagation of bamboo and is providing nursery for those who are interested to forge partnership with them. In terms of the skills in weaving, some of the experts in Nueva Ecija in this particular industry are found in the towns of Bongabon, Carranglan, Gabaldon, General Tinio, and Llanera.

The NESMEDC, NEBIDC and DTI hope to further strengthen the bamboo and weaving industries in the province by attracting additional bamboo producers or cooperators that could assist weavers by identifying possible markets.

Metro Pacific Agro Ventures, the agribusiness subsidiary of Metro Pacific Investments Corp. (MPIC) in partnership with Israel-based LR Group will be investing in a vegetable greenhouse complex on a 22-hectare lot in San Rafael, Bulacan. The 7 hectares of the site will be used for two greenhouses, with the other 15 hectares being used for the irrigation centers, logistics warehouse, packing facility, and energy facilities.

A one-hectare greenhouse will be utilized for nutrient film technique hydroponics, and the other 6 hectares will be used for the drip irrigation system. These cutting-edge facilities will provide year-round production. Outputs are expected every 27 days while using 90% less water, 90% less land, and 90-99% less fertilizer and pesticides. With an expected investment of P800 to P1 billion, it will cover the full vegetable value chain, including the production of vegetable seedlings, vegetable growing, sorting, packaging, and marketing.

DTI - NE MSMES JOIN TINAPA FESTIVAL

By: Debbyriza T. Hidalgo

The Municipality of San Leonardo in Nueva Ecija celebrated the first Tinapa Festival in the region on February 19, 2023.

The festivities started with a parade where locals marched on the streets dressed in tinapa-inspired costumes. A cooking competition followed where participants prepared delicious tinapa dishes such as sisig, shanghai, ginataang bangus tinapa, and the winning dish ginataang laing with tinapa.

DTI-3 has assisted tinapa producers in this town through the Shared Service Facilities (SSF) program.

“Our barangay is known for our Tinapa and it is through this business that many families here were able to sustain their daily needs, particularly during the pandemic. The SSF given to us by the DTI gave us the inspiration to continue improving our product and innovate,” SSF beneficiary Mary Ann Sagum said.

In addition, through DTI’s One Town One Product (OTOP) Program, the packaging and product presentation created a safe and cleaner impression on tinapa products.

Vacuum-sealed smoked fish products were made more competitive with their improved packaging and label through the DTI-SSF and OTOP. The usual tinapa sold alongside the national highway of Nueva Ecija is now frequently exhibited at DTI local Trade Fairs. It can also be brought abroad as “pasalubong” without worrying about its smoky smell and spoilage.

Another highlight of the festival is the ceremonial awarding of the Best SSF in Nueva Ecija for LGU of San Leonardo, with the presence of Mayor Froilan Nagaño of San Leonardo and Dr. Richard V. Simangan, Provincial Director of DTI Nueva Ecija.

DTI-3, PGA-IPO PUSH COMPETITIVENESS REORIENTATION FOR LGUS

By: Judelyn L. Peneyra

The Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) – Aurora Provincial Office and Provincial Government of Aurora – Investment Promotions Office (PGA-IPO) conducted a Reorientation Meeting for Local Government Units (LGUs) on the Cities and Municipalities Competitiveness Index (CMCI) held at the PGA Conference Room, Capitol Building in Suklayin on March 24.

The activity aims to continuously improve local and provincial competitiveness rankings and increase intervention among local government offices to gather the most relevant data according to different pillars and indicators of CMCI.

“We want other LGU offices to be involved because data for various CMCI indicators does not come solely from the Business Permits and Licensing Office (BPLO) and the Local Economic Investment and Promotions Office (LEIPO),” DTI Aurora Provincial Director Aldrin Veneracion said.

Most of the essential information during data gathering shall be provided by other offices such as the Municipal Planning and Development Office (MPDO), Municipal Engineering Office (MEO), Municipal Health Office (MHO), Municipal Disaster Risk Reduction Management Office (MDRRMO), Municipal Tourism Office (MTO), and others,” he added.

Meanwhile, Provincial Planning and Development Coordinator (PPDC) Armida Palispis commended each LGU's contribution to the province's competitiveness .

Provincial Administrator/Provincial Agriculturist Arnold Novicio encourages each LGU to continually improve its competitiveness ranking to attract more investors.

“The scores of each LGU in different indicators of CMCI may complement one another, increasing the province's overall score,” Palispis explained.

Provincial Administrator and Provincial Agriculturist Arnold Novicio has attended on behalf of Governor Christian Noveras. “I was amazed by our provincial ranking's 27-notch jump from 45th to 18th on the recent CMCI data. With the strong collaboration of DTI and IPO, I am optimistic that we will be able to improve our ranking even further,” Novicio said.

Moreover, investments and promotions concerns were highlighted during the meeting. Provincial Investment and Promotions Officer (PIPO) Cecilia Marino encouraged LEIPOs to prepare and submit business offers and a database of locations ready for occupancy that could be presented to future investors. Localization of CMCI awarding was also proposed to recognize the most improved LGUs and motivate them to strive for more.

DTI-3 Regional CMCI Focal Person Barry Bernabe Pangilinan facilitated the orientation and addressed data gathering and validation concerns.
